Global Education - EU DEFINITION

Global Education is education that opens people's eyes and minds to the realities of the world, and awakens them to bring about a world of greater justice, equity and human rights for all.

Europe-wide Global Education Congress (2002)

Global education is a pedagogical approach fostering multiple perspectives based on the deconstruction of stereotypes, while building on a learner-centred approach that fosters critical awareness of global challenges and engagement for sustainable lifestyles. It is a methodology aiming at the development of a more inclusive education, human rights education, education for sustainability, education for peace and conflict prevention and intercultural education.

Global Education - NATIONAL DEFINITIONS

In Ireland, GE is believed to be a fundamental human right and the basis for progress in every society. Since it is perceived as a catalyst for the achievement of all the Sustainable Development Goals, education has always been central to the development of Irish society.

In the Czech Republic, the term GE is understood as a process of lifelong learning which contributes to understanding international differences and similarities, and facilitates the socio-economic, political, environmental, and cultural processes that affect them.

Poland's definition of GE follows the European Commission, and there are different key institutions involved in supporting the development of Global Education issues and topics at a national level, like the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of National Education or the Ministry of the Environment.

The Spanish conception of GE integrates values of cooperation and mutual support, tolerance and intercultural dialogue, harmony and peace with the environment. It is an integrative approach of environmental education, education for development and peace and human rights.

Italy's definition of GE draws on the European Commission's idea of an approach supporting open-mindedness and leading to take action for change. GE helps students develop their capacity to address the world's most pressing issues collaboratively, equitably, and sustainably.
